

Acknowledgments

Finishing my postgraduate studies with this Thesis project, I would like to take the chance and give thanks to all of those who supported me during these past two years. First and foremost I would like to thank the Greek Foundation "Propondis" for supporting me so generously with a scholarship grant, without which I would not have accomplished my tasks. I heartily thank the members of the foundation, the director Ioanni Bavea, and his assistant Metaxia Bichaki, for their friendly personal support throughout my stay abroad. Further on I would like to thank Professor Liz Bachhuber, who has been my official mentor during my Thesis preparation, and who also helped me in the beginning of these studies, as well as, my theory advisors Professor Wolfgang Bock, and Roger Behrens. I thank Roger Behrens especially for his friendship during my residence in Weimar. I would like to give cordial thanks Naomi Tereza Salmon, who has been not only my unofficial mentor throughout my Thesis preparation, but also for being one of the main friendly supporters of my inquiries. I would like to thank Adelheid Mers, who has been my tutor during my studies in The School of the Art Institute of Chicago, and an exceptional advisor in practical issues and theoretical concepts. Special thanks to Professor Mary Jane Jacob for piloting me throughout the difficulties I confronted during my studies in Chicago in the SAIC, and for the personal considerations. Coming back to my local context I want to give many thanks to all the people and officials, who collaborated with me and helped me to realize my project here in Weimar: first of all Jirka Reichmann and the administrative office of the MFA, Helena Mühe and the Ausländerbeauftragte, Manuela Wenzel and the Asylbewerbungen Whonheim, Mrs. Sommermann, Mr. Thorsten Harz and the Studentenmensa Jena-Weimar, K.
